

COMMISSION OFFICERS

Antonia "Toni" Moran, Chair
Melanie O'Brien, Vice Chair
Mary Lee A. Kiernan, Secretary
Denise Rodosevich, Treasurer

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Teresa C. Younger

COMMISSIONERS

Lucia A. Aschettino
JoAnn Calnen
Mayor April Capone
Yvonne R. Davis
Barbara DeBaptiste
Adrienne Farrar Houël
Kristin A. LaFleur
Jean L. Rexford
Helene Shay
Patricia E.M. Whitcombe
Cecilia J. Woods

HONORARY MEMBERS

Connie Dice
Patricia T. Hendel
Patricia Russo

Testimony of
The Permanent Commission on the Status of Women
Before the Judiciary Committee
March 19, 2012

Re: H.B. 5509, AAC The Payment of Alimony and Child Support

Senators Coleman and Kissel, Representative Fox and Hetherington, and members of the committee, thank you for this opportunity to provide testimony on behalf of the Permanent Commission on the Status of Women (PCSW) regarding the above referenced bill.

H.B. 5509 would restrict the duration of alimony, and severely limit the grounds for which the Court could deviate from the law. PCSW opposes passage of this bill because it does not take into consideration each family's finances, circumstances, and the trade-offs that were made when the marriage was successful, i.e. one spouse remaining out of the workforce to care for the children. It also provides the obligor with additional mechanisms to control the ex-spouse's household after divorce.

Divorced women earn about 13% less than divorced men - $38,046 for divorced women and $43,621 for divorced men.¹ In addition to pay inequity, women have less income because they are the primary caretakers in the family. Women are more likely to have taken time off or work or worked part-time to care for the family's children. Men continue to increase their income because their spouses are caring for their children while they work.

In divorce this income disparity continues because women still have to take time out of the workforce to care for the children, but now they have less income. Child support only pays a fraction of the expenses needed to provide a household for a child, and it doesn't calculate extra expenses such as extracurricular and school activities.

Passage of this bill will result in custodial parents, which are mostly women, continuing to bear the brunt of the financial responsibility for the parties' children. We appreciate your attention to this matter, and look forward to working with you on this issue.

¹ Mariko Chang, Ph.D. Shortchanged: Why Women Have Less Wealth and What Can Be Done About It, 2010.